Chubb Random Musings Cold Fusion strategykinetics com I returned home Saturday night to find a copy of condensed matter nuclear science proceedings of the 10th international conference on cold fusion edited by Peter L Hagelstein MIT and Scott R Chubb Naval Research Laboratory Weighing in at 4 25 pounds this is no small book addressing a big big topic I had attended the 10th ICCF which was held in Cambridge and hence a copy of the Framework for Understanding LENR Processes Using Conventional Condensed Matter physics provides a unifying framework for understanding Low Energy Nuclear Reactions LENR s in solids In the paper standard many body physics techniques are used Curriculum Vitae for Peter L Hagelstein Peter L Hagelstein Contact Information at NPS Room 115 Meyer Institute Bullard Hall International society for condensed matter nuclear science 1990 Award for excellence in plasma research APS edited by P L Hagelstein and S R Chubb World Scientific Singapore 2006 1016 pages PHUSOR R amp D world std com In aqueous CF LANR systems the lab rat is the Phusor® type cathode in a high impedance CF LANR systems shown in open demonstration for several days at MIT in 2003 ICCF 10 leading to many papers and discoveries Semiquantitative excess power exceeded 25 watts JET Energy References world std com JET Energy Inc is a company involved in clean energy production Recently open demonstrations over months have demonstrated LANR quantum optical devices containing preloaded nanostructured LANR material Tomorrow preloaded LANR nanostructured materials and devices will also be useful for integrated circuits and other applications using a pre activated nanostructured and other materials
